Dear Parents and Carers,

Today has been a lovely day in school! We have had an enrichment day to enable the teachers to focus on some curriculum work. We have themed today as 'try something new day' and have had a number of providers in school leading workshops – this has included street dance, a Djembe drumming workshop and Crossbar have been in to do some sporting activities. They have also been trying something new within class such as learning words and phrases in a new language. The children seem to have really enjoyed themselves! I would like to say a huge thank you to our PTA The Friends of Oakmeadow who have donated funds to pay for the workshops today.

This week children have also taken part in Internet Safety Day. With the access our children have to devices now we feel this is so important to keep revisiting. Key Stage 2 took part in the live BBC lesson and EYFS and Key Stage had our digital leaders read an E-Safety story. Some of the topics talked about this time were phishing, scams and passwords.

Next week is half term so we look forward to welcoming children back on Tuesday 25th January, as the Monday is a PD Day.

I hope you all have a lovely half term!
